

Gettysburg Times Opens 50th Anniversary Year At Its 8th Annual Dinner On Wednesday

The Gettysburg Times "family" opened the observance of the newspaper's golden anniversary year Wednesday evening at its eighth annual dinner held at the Hotel Gettysburg.

One hundred and twenty-one employees, department heads, officers of the company and guests heard the growth and development of the first 50 years traced; were given a glimpse into the immediate future, and were admonished to be worthy of the inheritance left by those who have gone before.

"If The Gettysburg Times is to celebrate its 100th anniversary or even its diamond jubilee, you must be worthy of the inheritance represented here tonight," William S. Livengood, Jr., state secretary of internal affairs, and the principal speaker, warned.

Heritage, Responsibility
"You have a rich heritage and with it a great responsibility. There will be no diamond jubilee or centennial anniversary if you are content to rest on the efforts of those who have gone before, and do nothing to preserve their ideals and accomplishments for those who will follow you."

Mr. Livengood identified himself as also a member of the newspaper profession. His father and three uncles were newspaper editors, he said, and he spent several years himself in newspaper work.

"The first order I remember distinctly is that of printer's ink and newsprint paper," he said. "Later I set type and ran a press. Then I went to live with an uncle, and became known as the youngest editor in the United States. At the age of eight I was editor of a 'cub' column in my uncle's paper."

"Be Worthy Custodians"
"I come here to offer you congratulations and to encourage you to be worthy custodians of a dream born a half century ago. It is remarkable that Gettysburg has had a daily newspaper for 50 years. Only by adhering to those things which have made The Times great can we salvage the things worth while. The greatest tragedy in Gettysburg would be to lose a fine institution like The Times and be dependent on a local bureau of some great city daily."

"A community is better when its newspaper is owned by the people who live in the community."

"The United States is not Washington, and Pennsylvania is not Harrisburg. They are in communities like Gettysburg, and therein lies the strength of the nation."

"We have seen so many things that made life so delightful not so many years ago disappear in this age of bigness and consolidation. We have seen our schools pass from local to state control, and there are those who would set up a department of education in Washington. All this consolidation has been brought about under the guise of economy and efficiency, and I can disprove the economy and am prepared to debate the efficiency. We are not one bit better than we were 30 years ago."

Reawakening Of Spirit
"I believe I can discern signs of a reawakening of the spirit which made The Gettysburg Times. We must fight to preserve these things for those who come after, but we must not put too much faith in other people. Each person must assume his own responsibility."

Features of the evening in addition to Mr. Livengood's address were the reviews of the first 50 years by Paul L. Roy, editor; Paul B. Ramer, superintendent, and Carl Baum, manager and advertising manager, and the presentation of gold wrist watches to Donovan Bream and Mrs. Salena Menchey, who have completed 20 years of service with The Times, and fountain pens to Mrs. Marie Noel, Hugh C. McIlhenny and James Harness, for 15 years of service.

Henry M. Scharf, assistant secretary, presided as toastmaster, and made the presentations. A certificate of honorary membership on The Times staff was presented to Mr. Livengood. Other honorary members who were guest speakers in preceding years were introduced.

Other Guests
Those at the dinner included Judge W. C. Sheely, Dr. A. R. Wentz, former president of the Lutheran Theological seminary; Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of the Gettysburg school jointure, and Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank.

Other honorary staff members who were unable to be present sent their regrets. They included Franklin Moore, Harrisburg, president of the (Please Turn to Page 8)

High Praise Heaped Upon Pioneers Of Daily Paper

Declaring that "progress is always the sum total of the efforts of many people," Henry M. Scharf, assistant secretary of The Gettysburg Times, paid high tribute to those men who played leading roles in the founding of a daily newspaper in Gettysburg at the annual Times dinner, Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

He spoke highly of those deceased or no longer associated with The Times, successor to The Progress, first daily paper here. In commendable commemoration of those affiliated with the first and present daily he cited individual attainments of those who have passed away.

"Madison Garvin had the faith in Gettysburg and the courage to start a daily paper in 1902. Ralph Buvinger, who bought the paper when it was being operated by an assignee, nursed the sick baby to reasonable health. W. Laverne Hafer, introducing good business methods, headed it in the right direction."

Lands Bille, Grimm
"Phil Bille was a stalwart through the years 1905-1919 and is to be credited with much of the progress and advancement of The Times in that period."

"Herb Grimm set a program in motion in 1923, when the paper came under its present ownership, which has developed as he dreamed it. In many respects The Times plant is a monument to him."

"The policies of The Times, and its sense of responsibility to the community it serves, are identical as they were originally set forth by the owners in 1923, when the paper was acquired from Mr. Hafer, which were so aptly expressed by the late John D. Keith in the phrase now to our masthead—'With honor to ourselves and profit to our patrons.'"

Tribute To Deceased Men
Mr. Scharf paid tribute also to Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, William Berdine, J. Price Oyler and E. P. Miller, all deceased, who were original members of the company in 1923.

"There were others to whom we today are indebted. Among them, Russell Smiley and Burt Shook, shop foremen; George Shields, a linotype operator; Margaret Smiley, proofreader and linotype operator, and Bill Corbett, of the news staff, all of whom were employees of The Times when they passed away."

"Another Times stalwart was the late Lillie Steiner Hafer who for many years capably managed the office of The Times until her marriage to Mr. Hafer."

"Besides those departed, there were others who made vast contributions to our 50 years of progress. Among these are numbered Don Ike-ler, now publisher of a paper in Peekskill, New York, who served as editor in the interim between Phil Bille and Herb Grimm. Also, Bill Duncan, now with the Philadelphia Inquirer, who was city editor for several years, and Ken Newbold, who also served as editor and is now with the Reading Eagle."

Cites Comparative Figures
In his report to the "Times family," Mr. Scharf made comparisons with the year 1949, when 1,000 silver dollars were used to indicate the sources and distribution of the company income.

"In 1951, the newspaper, job printing, sale of publications and other income produced for 497,475, 16 and 12 respectively of the 1,000 dollars as compared with 511,459, 18 and 12 respectively in 1949."

"In 1951, 532 of the silver dollars went for wages as against 495 in (Please Turn to Page 2)

$4,000 BLAZE DAMAGES HOME ON WEDNESDAY

Fire caused from an overheated stovepipe caused damage estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000 to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor, a half mile north of New Chester, Wednesday afternoon, according to John Overbaugh, New Oxford fire chief.

The fire started in the ceiling of the first floor and was discovered at 12:20 o'clock. An insurance salesman who had driven to the Taylor home to deliver a policy for a tractor drove to the Snyder store in New Chester to telephone the alarm to the New Oxford fire company.

When firemen arrived, flames were shooting from the second story and attic and had broken through the roof of the two-story and attic log and weatherboard house.

Water Far Away
There was no water available nearer than Sharrer's mill on Cone-away creek, a quarter of a mile away. New Oxford firemen asked help from Hampton and Irishtown, and the water in booster tanks of the apparatus of these three companies brought the fire under control at 1:30 o'clock. Chief Overbaugh said. Later water was pumped from a outside cistern. No lines were laid to the creek.

Worst damage was to two bedrooms on the second floor, Chief Overbaugh said. Furniture, furnishings and clothing were a complete loss. There was considerable damage to the attic and water damage to the lower floor. Most of the furniture on the first floor was carried from the building and saved. New Oxford firemen remained on the scene until 4:20 o'clock.

DISCUSSES NEW TEACHING USES AT CLUB SESSION

Dr. Ralph D. Heim, member of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary faculty, discussed "Audile and Visual Aids" used in the field of education at a meeting of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg Wednesday afternoon in the administration building of the seminary.

Three films were shown in connection with the new educational technique. The first, an "Encyclopedia Britannica" production entitled "Henry Wadsworth Longfellow," portrayed the life and times of the American poet. This type of movie is used in teaching literature. The second film, "Make Way For (Continued on Page 2)

BULLETINS

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP) — President Truman said today he will keep General Eisenhower on the job as supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe as long as Eisenhower will stay there. The President described Eisenhower as a grand man, and repeated at a news conference his past praise for him.

Seattle, Jan. 10 (AP) — Ships and airplanes sped today to a spot on the storm-tossed waters of the north Pacific where they hope to find 45 men who abandoned the disabled freighter Pennsylvania during a heavy storm yesterday evening.

The crewmen and their officers left the split-open, water-logged jinx ship at 4:30 p.m. Pacific standard time (7:30 p.m. EST). They apparently preferred fighting mountainous seas and high winds in their frail life boats to remaining on the wallowing 7,800-ton vessel.

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP) — President Truman today placed full responsibility for the government clean-up job on Attorney General J. Howard McGrath. He also announced that McGrath will continue in his cabinet post.

The President told his weekly news conference, in response to questions, that the attorney general will carry out the job that is necessary in connection with the investigation of reports of scandals within the government.

Heroic Sea Captain Loses Battle; Flying Enterprise Sinks After 2 Weeks' Duel

London, Jan. 10 (AP) — The gallant American freighter Flying Enterprise sank in the stormy Atlantic today after a mighty two-weeks' duel with the sea. Heroic Capt. Kurt Carlsen and First Mate Kenneth Dancy of the tug Turmoil were snatched from the churning waters to safety.

Carlsen and Dancy leaped overboard when it became evident the 6,711-ton freighter was going down under the crashing waves. The stand-by rescue fleet closed in. The tug Turmoil threw over a rope ladder and the two men clambered to safety. They were in the water only about four minutes.

Losses Dangerous Duel
Carlsen refused to give up until the stricken freighter obviously was leaving her last. He had battled since the Christmas day hurricane to save his ship. His solitary duel with the Atlantic began Dec. 28 after he ordered all hands to abandon the ship, which carried a crew of 40 and 10 passengers. Dancy joined him last Saturday.

The big freighter thrashed about in its final struggle against the sea for 40 minutes and then disappeared. Aboard the British salvage tug Turmoil, Carlsen and Dancy, bearded and exhausted, climbed into dry clothing as the tug turned hurriedly in the direction of Falmouth, about 40 miles away.

Last Fighting Hour
Associated Press reporters at the scene depicted the last hour of the Enterprise.

For more than 24 hours the vessel had been virtually on its side. At 3:08 p.m. (10:08 a.m., EST) it became obvious to the U.S. destroyer Keith, standing by, that the Enterprise was about to go down. It and other nearby boats began the long-planned rescue operation at once.

The motley assortment of boats which had been scurrying about the freighter for days heaved close in to the writhing vessel as the Turmoil's lights flashed the signal "C-L-O-S-E."

The funnel of the Enterprise by this time was slapping the surface of the sea. The bow was considerably lower than the stern. A little American flag still fluttered over the rear part of the superstructure.

The wind was blowing fiercely, pitching the rescue tugs about like chips of wood. Water poured into the funnel of the dying Enterprise.

The two men leaped overboard, even as the Enterprise gave a heave to port and began slowly to roll over on her side. Part of her cargo — worth more than a million dollars — was strewn about the surface of the churning water in profusion. Soon other parts of the Enterprise began to crack, and more cargo was pitched out into the sea.

By 3:34 p.m., the Enterprise was fully on her side. Grimly Carlsen and Dancy, clad in life jackets and dripping with water, watched the last gasp from the tug.

It was a gallant deed. The rescue fleet saluted it. In the last few minutes the tugs sounded their sirens. Only the bow of the Enterprise was visible. At 4:09 p.m. flames on the surface of the water near the ship were lighted, casting a weird light over the area as the Enterprise took her final plunge. One minute later the Enterprise was below the sea.

Carlsen and Dancy were taken into the cabin of the Turmoil by its skipper, Capt. Dan Parker. The navy said the two men had been in the water only four minutes, so effective had the rescue operation been.

Sanitary Method
The vacuum tube system will not only save time in milking the 80 cows at the Spicer farm but reduce the possibility of infection in milk handling. The pipes have been installed and, pending arrival of the tank, the milk will flow through the vacuum tube to cans. Parkin said that both glass tubing and stainless steel have been used by dairymen in establishing the mechanical system.

The State College extension specialist showed slides and discussed the advantages of "pen stabling" as compared to the stanchion method of keeping the cows in most barns.

Under the pen method the cows are brought in either in units of four or eight to stanchions for milking and then turned loose to eat in a large pen where they can move about as they wish.

At an afternoon demonstration held at the Irvin Hostetter farm, Hanover R. D., Parkin claimed that "you can't milk a cow too fast, and one man can't handle more than one milking machine." It takes from six to seven minutes to milk a cow with a machine. After the udder is washed there is a two to three minute period before the cow is ready to let down her milk and it takes another three minutes to milk the cow and another minute to take the machine off and move to the next cow. That time element is important. If one man tries to handle more than one machine he usually has to leave the machine on the cow longer than the time needed for milking. The result is the development of a callus on the teat which eventually leads to less milk."

Plans were announced at Thursday's meeting for a demonstration at the Spicer farm of the new vacuum milk carrying installation after it is in full operation.

D. W. M'SHERRY HEADS FIREMEN JULY 4 PROGRAM

Donald W. McSherry, first assistant chief of the Gettysburg Fire department, was appointed general chairman of the annual observance of the Battle of Gettysburg and Independence day committee Wednesday night at a meeting of the firemen held in the engine house on East Middle street. William G. Weaver, president, presided. Sixty members attended.

Mr. McSherry succeeds James S. Shenk, who asked to be relieved of the chairmanship he has held since the inception of these celebrations, giving as his reason the press of other business. Work will be started immediately on plans for the 1952 observance, commemorating the three-day battle of Gettysburg, and culminating with the Fourth of July festivities.

Treasurer Reports
The general fund of the department had a balance at the end of 1951 of $11,495.20, and the relief fund a balance of $11,216.88, according to the annual report of Joseph E. Codori, treasurer, submitted and approved at the meeting.

An auditing committee, composed of George D. March, chairman, Alvin Bupp and Fred Faber, Jr., was named by President Weaver, who presided at the meeting.

Raymond E. Menges, chairman of the annual Ladies Night committee, announced that this affair will be held Tuesday evening, February 5, at the Moose home, York street. George D. March, chairman of the committee to arrange the annual veteran firemen's dinner, announced that this will be held January 31 at the Legion home, Baltimore street.

Final Party Report
The final report of the Thanksgiving turkey party committee was received and accepted and the committee, headed by Secretary Harold Culp, was discharged with the thanks of the company.

The fire company received a communication from the March of Dimes committee asking a contribution. Because the company has gone on record against any contributions to other agencies or fund-raising drives, no contribution was voted, but President Weaver appealed to individual firemen to make up, in their own contributions to the polo fund, the amount usually given by the company.

At the recommendation of Treasurer Codori, the company voted that any member of the fire company who makes a purchase for the company must sign the sale slip.

William Little was placed on the retired list, at his own request.

The refreshment committee for the February meeting will include Edward A. Culp, chairman; Ray Culp, Harold Culp, Thomas Collingsworth and Joseph Claybaugh.

Among duties of the committee will be a study of "such problems as defense production, St. Lawrence Seaway, regional authority plans modeled after TVA, socialized medicine, federal aid to education, federal aid to housing and the report of the Hoover commission," according to Leonard P. Fox, executive director of the state Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to Mr. Thomas.

The committee will also arrange for the Pennsylvania Congressional dinner April 29 at Washington at which the state chamber, of which Mr. Thomas is a director, will be host to Pennsylvania's representatives in the U. S. Congress.

Simon Stock, Harrisburg — brother of Father Stock, and Rt. Rev. Joseph Schmidt, Carlisle, are named as executors of the will. The first part of the will provides for the executors to pay whatever debts may be outstanding at the time of death and the funeral expenses and then follows the paragraph giving all the remainder of the estate to the bishop for use of the local church.

The amount of the estate is listed as "undetermined." Father Stock typed out the one-page will and had it signed March 10, 1950. He died November 27, 1951, at St. Joseph's hospital, Lancaster, following a long illness.

ASK JUDGMENT

A motion for judgment on the pleadings has been filed by the law firm of Keith, Bigham and Markley for the Western Maryland railway company with the county prothonotary in the action in trespass brought against the railway by Walter P. Shenberger, York. The motion asks judgment in favor of the Western Maryland and against Shenberger, arguing that the entering of a compulsory non-suit in York county in a suit brought on the same matter prevents the suit from being brought in Adams county.

Reds Charged With Plot To Use Prisoners To Build Army

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 10 (AP) — Allied negotiators today accused the Communists of scheming to strengthen their forces in Korea by "forced repatriation" of prisoners of war.

Reds are "seared to death" of giving war prisoners freedom of choice as to whether they want to be repatriated.

He told the Reds that by opposing this principle in the Allied plan they "denounce individual freedom and advocate slavery."

The U.N. again rejected the Red compromise truce supervision plan because it failed to ban construction and repair of military air fields.

Talks Are Deadlocked
As the armistice talks entered the seventh month, subcommittee on truce supervision and prisoner exchange appeared tightly deadlocked. However, both scheduled meetings for 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EST Thursday) in Panmunjom.

"Your opposition to our proposal is based solely on your aim of improving your military manpower situation during an armistice," Libby told the Reds. "Only that which benefits your side militarily do you consider true and righteous."

"Having augmented your forces throughout the war by freedom of choice you now seek to continue to augment your forces by its opposite, 'forced repatriation.'"

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho called Libby's statement "vicious propaganda."

Let Prisoners Decide
"You should not have used this manuscript in the conference," Lee said. "You should have handed it over to your propaganda man to give to the broadcasters and news agencies."

In a two-hour statement Libby told the Communists:

"We have been informed that it was your traditional policy toward (Korean) prisoners of war to release them from captivity after indoctrination."

"The fact that they later reappeared in your army was explained away by the fact that they exercised their freedom of choice to join your side. Accepting these assertions at face value, the United Nations command proposed that each individual be given the right to decide for himself whether he wanted to be repatriated—to leave the final choice to the individual under conditions free from duress."

MARCH OF DIMES PARTY WILL BE HELD ON JAN. 31

The annual dance held as part of the fund raising activities of the county's Infantile Paralysis campaign will be held at the Hotel Gettysburg January 30 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, fund drive chairman, announced today. Sponsor tickets will be $5 and will admit a couple. Individual tickets will be $2.

Names Committees
Mrs. Codori also announced the following committees to sell tickets and otherwise assist in the "March of Dimes" program:

Ardenville: Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger; Bendersville: Mrs. Clyde Orner; Biglerville: Mrs. L. Musselman Arnold; Cashtown: Mrs. Kermit Deardorff; East Berlin: Elmer V. Gruver; Fairfield: Mrs. Jay Brown; Gettysburg: Mrs. Bruce N. Wolff, Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, Mrs. Charles E. Weaver, Mares Sherman and Richard Codori; Littlestown: Mrs. Charles E. Weikert; New Oxford: David DeTar and Frank Higginbotham; McSherrytown: F. Joseph Seneinger; York Springs: the Mademoiselle club, which will also hold its annual card party at the York Springs fire hall on January 31 for the benefit of the Polo fund. Mrs. Codori said.

She added, "This year marks the most crucial year in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The past four years have been characterized by the worst outbreaks of Infantile Paralysis in history. As a result there is greater need for funds. Nationally $5,000,000 more has been spent than was taken in through previous campaigns. This means, that on a national scale, $5,000,000 must be raised to pay off that debt before there will be funds to continue research and help polio sufferers in the coming year."

SEES OBITUARY FOR 'FAIR DEAL' IN TRUMAN TALK

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—Anyone with an eye for funeral notices could see in President Truman's state of the union message the obituary of his "fair deal" program—for this year, anyway.

Although he plugged for it yesterday as he has in the past, no one around here expects Congress to listen. Mr. Truman himself must be too much of a political realist to expect it to.

Congress' main interest this year will be foreign affairs and defense, not the kind of social changes involved in the "fair deal." Besides, such social changes are bitterly controversial and this is an election year.

Lacks Earlier Vigor

If, for instance, the Truman Democrats were able to ram through civil rights legislation the southern Democrats would be hopelessly split away in a year when they're badly needed.

When this session of Congress ends, if the Democratic party wants to continue the "fair deal" fight, it can do so in its 1952 platform what it did in its 1948 platform: Promise to put through the "fair deal" in the next four years.

Even Mr. Truman's language seemed to lack the vigor of previous years. He covered the problem of civil rights in 12 words: "We need to take action toward the wider enjoyment of civil rights."

These have been major items in the fair deal program: Wiping out or revising the Taft-Hartley Act; federal aid to education; civil rights; pre-paid health insurance; raising the minimum wage; widening social security; and low cost housing.

Other Reasons Too

Through the years Mr. Truman has banged away at all of them. Except for the last three, Congress has ignored them. Yesterday Mr. Truman dusted them off and dropped them into Congress' basket again.

But there are some other reasons—besides the political ones mentioned—why Congress is or has been reluctant about pushing through the fair deal.

It will, truly, this year be up to its neck in the Russian dilemma—in approving measures for defense, and the money to pay for it and the rest of our foreign program.

Besides, this is a highly prosperous year when most people have jobs and money, and profits are high. In prosperous years there's no eagerness in Congress for social changes.

MacArthur May Be GOP's Keynote

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—The possibility of inviting Gen. Douglas MacArthur to be keynote speaker at the Republican presidential nominating convention is under discussion by members of the party's executive committee.

A prominent GOP official, who asked not to be quoted by name, told a reporter that he and his colleagues have talked over such an invitation to the general.

This party member said MacArthur is almost certain to be asked to make a major speech at the July convention in any event—a likelihood confirmed in other Republican quarters.

If MacArthur is invited to speak and accepts—the GOP convention might note a contrast between his attitude toward army regulations against political activity and that of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Eisenhower has made it clear that so long as he is in uniform as North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) commander, he will not discuss political matters although he has made himself available for the GOP nomination.

PIAA Basketball Officials To Meet

The Gettysburg chapter of PIAA basketball officials will hold a regular meeting at the American Legion home in Gettysburg on Sunday, January 13, at 11 a.m.

Chester S. Shriver, chapter secretary, has requested all officials to be present to receive and sign the contracts received since the last meeting from schools in Adams, York and Franklin counties. Other important business will also be transacted.

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—Rep. Ford (R-Mich.) today proposed that Congress set up a commission to study the Great Lakes high water level problem.

It would be composed of four representatives from federal agencies and one from each of the eight states bordering the Great Lakes. They are Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York. Ford told a reporter that Great Lakes waters have reached near record high levels, inflicting "almost unbelievable" damage on shore properties.

1949. Increased volume, better equipment and more efficient operation brought it about that 298 silver dollars were required for supplies and expenses in 1951 as against 354 in 1949. Hence, there were 170 silver dollars remaining after all expenses in 1951 whereas in 1949 there were but 151.

U.S. Grabs Big Share
"However, the silent partner of all of us — Uncle Sam — claimed 106 of our 170 silver dollars in 1951, leaving us but 64, while in 1949, he took but 63 of our 151 silver dollars which left us 88.

"Wages that were paid to capital in the form of dividends were the same in each year — 21 silver dollars — with the result that while in 1949 we had 67 silver dollars available for reinvestment in the business, in 1951, with greater volume, we were left with only 43 for reinvestment in new equipment, etc.

"This study clearly shows the deadly effect of high taxes on American business. America became great because of a capitalistic economy the basic tenet of which is that greater production means higher wages and lower costs resulting in more goods for more people to an extent that we have the highest living standard in the world.

24 Dollars Short
"The comparison of the silver dollars of 1949 with 1951 clearly proves this is the way our American economy works. It also shows that our high tax structure is reversing this natural economic law for instead of having 19 more silver dollars available for wages, dividends and reinvestment, we have to devote 43 more silver dollars for taxes with the result that actually we are 24 silver dollars short of 1949.

"Individuals who work for wages or who are engaged in private business have the same experience and are likewise effected by the high tax structure.

"For instance, in 1949 wages required 495 silver dollars. We paid 435 of them to our employees and 60 of them to Uncle Sam, on their account, as income taxes withheld from wages. In 1951, 532 silver dollars went for payrolls from which we had to hold out 79 silver dollars for taxes withheld. Of 37 more silver dollars that were allocated to payrolls, our employees got but 18 of them—Uncle Sam took 19 more than he did in 1949.

Taxes Take Big Share
"Put it another way—the 79 silver dollars contributed in taxes by you and the 106 contributed in taxes by the company make a total of 185 silver dollars of taxes having its source in this one enterprise which earned only 170 silver dollars in the first place."

Introductions of M. C. Jones, vice president, and Franklin R. Bigham, secretary, followed Mr. Scharf's report to the "Times family," and the staff of Radio station WGET was introduced. These included Murray Goldsborough, manager of the station; Lester M. Blair, Owen M. Voigt, Sebastian R. Hafer, Edwin L. Shoop, Miss Ann A. Snider, Jack Weitzel, William Akles, and Miss Maurine Nelson.

"Although only a little more than a year old, the radio station, in this short space of time, is exhibiting the same type of devotion to the people of Adams county in the dissemination of news, public services and entertainment that The Times has done in its 50-year span," Mr. Scharf said.

The guest prize was awarded to Joseph Dickson; the prize for women employees to Miss Snider; to guest of an employee to Mrs. Edward Hawk, Littlestown, and the men's prize for employees to James Snyder.

Lowe added, however, that "we will begin a grass-root movement right here in Ohio to continue interest in behalf of Gen. (Dwight) Eisenhower."

OPPOSE ENVOY TO VATICAN

The Rev. Nevil R. Frantz, pastor of the Zion Reformed church, Ardenstville, spoke on "The Implications of the Appointment of an Ambassador to the Vatican," at the first regular, formal session of the Adams County Ministerium Monday morning at the First Methodist church.

The address was followed by a discussion by the approximate 20 ministers in attendance, resulting in the unanimous opinion that "such an appointment is contrary to the principles of the founding of our democracy and would set a precedent for the future." At a meeting last month the membership voted to join with the Gettysburg Ministerium in expressing disapproval of the movement to Congress.

The president of the county organization, the Rev. Dr. Norman S. Wolf, Fairfield, was in charge of the meeting which was opened with a devotional period by the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The Ministerium will meet February 4 at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church, the regular meeting place. The address will be given by the Rev. Robert W. Knecht, pastor of the Church of the Brethren. He will point out the various ideas and practical advantages of the Ecumenical Christian Movement. Mrs. Harold L. Myers, co-pastor of the Four-square Gospel church, will preside at the devotional period.

Bullets Stage Uphill Scrap To Defeat Bucknell 86-79

After trailing throughout the first three periods, the scrappy Gettysburg college basketball team came from behind in the last period to upset Bucknell 86-79 here Wednesday night for their fifth victory in six starts.

The game was a typical Bullet-Bison affair with plenty of thrills and a wild finish. With about three and one-half minutes remaining Connie Deloca, husky Bucknell center, was ejected after felling Gene Coder on a jump at center. Deloca's action brought fans streaming onto the floor but cooler heads prevented serious trouble and play was resumed after a short delay.

Bucknell's ability to control play under the boards enabled the Bisons to set the pace throughout the first half. The invaders held a narrow margin in the first quarter and the Bullets were able to get a short-lived lead but once when George Hare looped a goal to make the score 15-14 after 10 minutes of action. Joe Gallagher and Bill Strella gave the Bisons a 25-21 lead at the quarter.

Take Big Lead
The visitors shot ahead into a substantial lead early in the second quarter on a foul and goal by Deloca and led midway in the round at 39-29. Gettysburg fought its way back into contention in the closing minutes on goals by Coder, Resanovich and Hare and left the floor trailing 47-43 at half time.

Bucknell spurred at the opening of the third period and built up a 57-48 lead midway. The Bullets, playing much better on retrieving off the boards, fought back and got the lead for the second time on a pair of goals by Pizolato and Resanovich at 60-59 after eight minutes. A foul by Ketterman was sandwiched between goals by Stella and McKibbin which gave Bucknell a 63-61 advantage into the final quarter.

A goal by Gallagher and foul by Deloca gave Bucknell its final lead 66-65 in the opening minutes of the last round before Pizolato connected on a pair of goals after which the Bullets were never headed and pulled steadily ahead.

Play Fine Game
Bob Pizolato played a fine all around game and connected for 19 points as did Mike Resanovich. Gene Coder turned in a nice performance and landed an even dozen points. Joe Gallagher, Bison ace, was easily the best performer for Bucknell, his deadly shooting being good for 27 points.

Gettysburg gave a particularly outstanding performance from the foul line by converting 20 of 25. Bucknell landed 13 of 22, most of the misses coming in the last half when the team collapsed.

Wagner Here Saturday
On Saturday the Bullets take another strong opponent here when the fast stepping Wagner outfit will be met.

UNBEATEN CAGE RANKS THINNED

By TED MEIER
New York, Jan. 10 (AP)—Syracuse and Mississippi State were knocked out of the unbeaten ranks in college basketball last night, narrowing the list of undefeated major teams to seven.

Syracuse took a 72-49 lacing at the hands of Pitt at Pittsburgh while Miss. State absorbed a 77-62 whacking from Mississippi at University, Miss. State had won 6 in a row and State 9.

This leaves Kansas 11-0; Florida 10-0; Seton Hall, 10-0; Iowa 9-0; Illinois 9-0; Duquesne 8-0, and Bonaventure 8-0 as the seven unbeaten majors.

With Mickey Zernich tossing in 23 points, Pitt put on a furious second quarter that had Syracuse behind, 37-16, at halftime. The Orange never got close thereafter.

Syracuse was ranked 14th in this week's Associated Press poll. Louisville, No. 15, beat Xavier of Ohio, 77-67. Oklahoma City, No. 18, trounced Wichita, 53-46, and Dayton, No. 20, walloped Ohio Univ., 101-71. None of the other teams in the top 20 saw action last night.

LEO HAILS HIS TEAM AS PICK FOR 1951 HONOR

Santa Monica, Calif., Jan. 10 (AP)—The selection of the New York Giants as the comeback champions of 1951 was hailed by Manager Leo Durocher today as "another wonderful honor for a great bunch of guys."

"The peppy pilot of the Polo Grounders paid this tribute to his men: 'I never saw a team with more determination or will to win.'"

Which explains the New Yorkers' surge to the National League pennant against odds so staggering that 165 out of 214 sportswriters and sportscasters picked it as the No. 1 comeback in the Associated Press' annual poll.

"The Giants weren't the greatest team I've managed or played with," said Durocher, "but I've never had or seen one with more hustle. They were really great, and never quit."

The home run of Bobby Thomson, clinching the Giants' uphill fight in the final game of the playoff with the Brooklyn Dodgers, gave Durocher his biggest thrill of all time. The Giants' feat of winning the flag after dropping 13½ games behind the Dodgers in August earned them a total of 549 points in the AP poll for the greatest comeback by a team or individual in 1951.

Walcott Second
Jersey Joe Walcott's knockout of Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight boxing title was rated second, with 127 points.

Other leading comebacks (on a 3-2-1 point vote for the first three places): 3—Bobby Feller, baseball, 52 points; 4—Stanford, football, 47; 5—Ben Hogan, golf, 40; 6—Chicago White Sox, baseball, 33; 7—Ray Robinson, boxing, 32; 8—Auburn, football, 17; 9—Joe DiMaggio, baseball (in World Series), 12; 10—Detroit Lions, football, 11.

Durocher himself received a couple of comeback votes.

The Giants skipper refused to single out any individual most responsible for the club's terrific drive, but he did put his finger on the possible turning point in the National League race.

"It might have been bringing Willie Mays up from Minneapolis," Durocher said. "The tremendous catch and throw that Willie made to catch Billy Cox at the plate against Brooklyn probably did as much as anything to keep us going in August."

E. B. DRIBBLERS LOSE 2 GAMES

Strong Hershey Cagers Meet Warriors Here Friday Night

Hershey high, picked as the most likely team to give Chambersburg a battle for the South Penn basketball title, comes here Friday night to engage the Gettysburg high school Warriors.

The boys from Chocolate Town have lived up to their pre-season rating, barely losing a 60-58 decision at Chambersburg, while brushing aside a strong Hanover team Tuesday evening at Hershey, 39-29.

Sterling Banta has a veteran team which is sparked by Dick Gaspari and Jim Garret, both of whom have plenty of height. Rounding out the starters for the Trojans are John Stettler and Glenn Hostetter, also lettermen, and Fred Evans.

The Warriors, like the Trojans, have a 1-1 league record and must win to stay in the upper bracket of the circuit. Coach Ferrey's squad sagged badly at Carlisle but hope to do an about-face Friday night.

Adams County Games
Chambersburg, which is well on its way to its ninth straight league championship, is expected to have little trouble when it entertains Waynesburg Friday. In other games Shippensburg plays at Mechanicsburg, and Carlisle at Hanover.

In the Adams County league the total farm output in 1951 has been estimated at 43 percent above the 1935-39 average and nearly 4 percent above 1950.

FAIRFIELD LOSES
The Fairfield high dribblers lost a 28-23 decision to the New Oxford high reserves Tuesday at New Oxford. The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday. On Friday Fairfield will be host to the East Berlin reserves.

Thousands Of Unemployed Wheel Through Gettysburg: From the

and parts of Maryland came "Cox's army" of unemployed through Gettysburg enroute to Washington, to "impress upon Congress the need for immediate relief for the jobless."
But not relief in the form of dole, but relief in the form of work.

In new and old sedans, coupes, towing cars, trucks and every conceivable contrivance for transportation this huge army of 14,000 trekked through this historic town for hours Wednesday.

Father Cox headed a delegation of more than 300 machines in one solid procession. He stopped for about twenty minutes in Gettys-

The "marchers" ranged in age from fifteen to fifty.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THAT TELEPHONE OF YOURS

How thoughtless we are of the simplest blessings that are enjoyed by us all. A few years ago I visited the grave of Alexander Graham Bell, at the top of a beautiful hill near Baddeck, Nova Scotia. A large boulder marks that grave with the names of Mr. and Mrs. Bell.

I stood at that noted shrine and thought of all the blessings that had been wrought through this great invention, and of the gratitude that a world owned to that great man for having perfected the telephone, so that now this is in fact "one world" so far as communication is concerned. Bell would smile in happy satisfaction could he now step back to life and see what man has wrought, through the mystery of God, in the newer manner of sending the human voice to every part of the earth, regardless of wires!

I was recently interested in the information given to the press of the country of the total number of telephones now being used throughout the world. There is a total of 74,800,000 of which 43,003,832 are in the United States — 11,000,000 more than are in all the countries of the world combined. In New York City alone there are 3,137,405 telephones in daily use and thousands more on the way!

Do you ever stop to think of that valuable aid to your business and happiness, of the telephone that is so near to you for any emergency, day or night? Should you suddenly be deprived of it, you would hardly know which way to turn! The telephone that is yours is almost your second self. It is so much more than a mere time saver and a convenience. It has cemented many a friend and many a home. It has brought cheer and hope to endless numbers.

The telephone, like a friend, is not sorely missed until you are deprived of either one. To this day I am stirred with wonder as I turn my chair to take the telephone for a talk to some distant point. It still remains for me a modern miracle.
Honoring all who have had such a great part in the perfecting of this wonderful instrument, we can still say to ourselves: "What God hath wrought!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Weather."

Just Folks

POOR MAN'S WEALTH

The millionaire across the street
Has lists of things he mustn't eat.
All dishes fried
Have been denied.
Both bread and cake
He must forsake.
To counteract his various ills
The one dessert allowed is pills.

The fellow shovels off the snow
Has nothing tasty to forego.
His wife supplies
The cakes and pies,
He jabs his fork
In beef and pork.
And every morning, noon and night
Digestion waits on appetite.

There is a poverty of wealth
Entailing pain and loss of health,
And teeth that bite
And appetite.
But poor men's wealth
Is rugged health
And those sweet juices that digest
Whatever food they fancy best.

PLAN ACTIVITIES AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Parent-Teachers association of St. Joseph's high school met Tuesday evening in the Junior home room of the school, with President Floyd C. Miller presiding. Twenty-eight parents and five teachers attended.

The principal said that the Catholic Students Mission Crusade bazaar will be held Friday, February 15. She asked if the PTA would consider buying curtains for the windows and doors of the auditorium so that moving pictures can be shown for educational purposes. She invited the PTA members to inspect the showers recently installed in the school, and reminded the members that the third week of February will be Catholic Book Week and that a large display of books written by Catholic authors and non-Catholic authors would be at their disposal and could be viewed at the next regular meeting of the organization.

A discussion on sponsorship of the various school dances was held and it was brought out that when the PTA was first organized it assumed responsibility for these affairs, so they will continue doing so. It was decided to hold the Valentine dance on the evening of the Crusade bazaar, and during the evening refreshments of ice cream, soft drinks and potato chips will be sold and the proceeds to be given to the missions. Mrs. Joseph Papp volunteered to be in charge of these refreshments.

Plan Party

Date for the annual card party was set for April 17. Committees for this affair will be appointed at the February meeting. A covered dish social will be held in conjunction with the February meeting and it was decided to hold this meeting on Wednesday, February 13, instead of Tuesday, the 12th, because of a basketball game which has been scheduled for the 12th. Committee appointed for the covered dish social included Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, Mrs. Charles Hemler and Earle Gelwicks. A committee of three was appointed by the president to confer with the principal regarding the drapes for the auditorium and it was decided that the PTA purchase these drapes. The committee appointed was Hugh Rocks, Thornton Rodgers and Earle Gelwicks. A suggestion made by the president to plan a schedule for the PTA meetings for the complete year was held over for further discussion at the meeting.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams of St. Joseph's high school journeyed to Frederick on Tuesday evening and were defeated by Frederick high teams. The final scores were, boys, 55-25, and the girls, 45-15.

some time in Gettysburg visiting with her daughter-in-law, Mrs.

tor's secretary at St. Elizabeth's hostime.

In an emergency

When trouble strikes, people turn instinctively to the telephone. It's the "safety-line" that brings aid quickly. That's why a good party-line neighbor always gives up the line to others in emergencies. He knows that his thoughtfulness may mean the difference between life and death. Consideration for others on the line makes service so much better for everyone.

Making short work of a shortage

Like many businesses these days, Western Electric supply unit of the Bell System, is faced with shortages in many critical materials. To save scarce aluminum, they tried a transparent plastic called polystyrene in the front covers of some telephone central office equipment. It works even better than aluminum because it enables telephone maintenance men to examine the interior without exposing delicate equipment to dust particles. The ability of telephone people to overcome obstacles like this is one big reason why your telephone service is so high in quality, yet low in cost.

GRAND OPENING OF FARM SHOW MONDAY AT 8

Harrisburg, Jan. 10 (P)—Trucks loaded with bawling cattle and shiny farm equipment rolled into this capital city today as exhibitors made ready for the grand opening Monday of Pennsylvania's biggest Farm show.

The 1952 exposition swings open its doors at 8 a. m., on a 5 million dollar display of Pennsylvania's agricultural might.

This year's five-day show has shattered all previous records in exhibit entries.

A small army of workmen bustled about the massive 14-acre Farm show building, readying exhibit booths and livestock stalls.

The first truckloads of prize livestock and poultry began arriving for the big show. The advance entry of the 1,809 head of horses, swine, sheep, beef and dairy cattle is the largest in the show's history.

Meanwhile, Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary and Farm show commission chairman, disclosed that the exposition this year will have an international flavor.

Seven German women teachers taking advance studies in home economics at a Pennsylvania college will spend four days at the mammoth show. Also seven German farm students studying in this country will inspect the show.

Some 11,000 individual exhibitors will compete for $55,100 in cash prizes. The prize money is the largest in the show's history.

Harrisburg hotels reported today that advance reservations for rooms have been sold out long ago. A battery of Chamber of Commerce workers are now hard at work finding accommodations for the more than a half-million visitors expected.

On the entertainment side, visitors attending evening programs in the big Farm show arena will see more than a half-dozen state championship events.

State titlists will be chosen during the week in such events as horse-shoe pitching, log sawing, horse pulling, sheep shearing and tractor driving.

No less than 30 two-horse teams are entered in the horse pulling contest. The event will start Wednesday afternoon, January 16, and wind up that evening. Supplementing the show activities will be annual meetings of more than 30 state-wide farm organizations.

Milk for the Chicago market comes from rural gathering depots as far as 375 miles away.

Seek Time Limit On Crime Programs

Washington, Jan. 10 (P)—A group of Harmony and New Brighton, Pa., citizens want a law that will keep radio and television crime programs off the air while young children are awake.

They expressed their views in a petition to Rep. Graham, Beaver Republican.

The petition, signed by 29 persons, said: "We request that a law be passed to keep fictitious crime out of our living rooms prior to 9 p. m., every night of the week."

"We ask that all murders, killings, vicious crimes and horror programs be barred from radio and television during the waking hours of our young children."

Graham, a member of the House Judiciary committee, told a reporter that he agreed with the petitioners but that it was not a subject for his committee.

He said he will send it to the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, which considers legislation dealing with the Federal Communications commission.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 10 (P)—Mrs. Bridge Angela O'Malley Casey, 82, widow of Patrick J. Casey, a pioneer Scranton hotelman, died last night at her home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. She is survived by seven children including Jerome P. Casey, Lackawanna county controller.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 10 (P)—Mrs. James H. Duff, wife of Senator Duff (R-Pa.), is recovering from a respiratory infection at Mercy hospital where she has been a patient since December 26.

Senator Duff visited his wife yesterday after flying here from Washington. Mrs. Duff said she expected to be discharged from the hospital Sunday.

During the fashion craze for feathers during the 1890's and '90's, about 50,000 New Guinea plumes were annually shipped abroad.

HEAR DEMANDS FOR ECONOMY AFTER SPEECH BY PRESIDENT

By JACK BELL.

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—An election year Congress responded with demands for economy and no more taxes today to President Truman's late of the union appeal for a road program of foreign aid and domestic spending.

Lawmakers gave signs they will support a speed-up in efforts to increase American military might.

But Republicans and southern democrats who together can muster a majority of both Houses appeared determined to hack the amount of foreign aid and to scuttle many of the President's social security proposals. They had some backers among administration supporters.

Churchill Listens

With Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill listening in from gallery seat, Mr. Truman yesterday called on Congress to meet the "very real" threat of World War III by bolstering the free nations of Europe and Asia with more economic and military aid.

The President proposed, among other things, (1) an increase in the size of the U. S. armed forces, (2) an expansion of "point four" aid abroad to combat "stomach communism," (3) tougher inflation controls and (4) a list of domestic welfare measures including defense housing, labor law revisions, aid to education, medical care, stronger farm price supports and a $5 a month boost in social security benefits.

SENATORIAL REACTION

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, was pleased that Mr. Truman called for an increase in the size of the air force and stepped up defense production.

Vice President Barkley thought the message "superb" and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), who doesn't always agree with Mr. Truman, called it "one of the President's better speeches."

Republicans pounded the point that Mr. Truman made no mention of economies. Senator Ives (R-NY) said the message "showed practically no concern over the actual economic welfare of the country."

Senator Martin (R-Pa.) said Mr. Truman was proposing "high taxes, big spending, deficit financing, unbalanced budgets and ever-increasing debt."

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) said the President's message left him "depressed about the state of the union."

See Platform

Senator Taft of Ohio, a Republican presidential candidate, had no comment except to observe that Mr.

Truman seemed to have "backed down" on previous demands for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The President asked for revision of the law.

Churchill called the President's presentation "masterful" but Republicans sailed into it as a political campaign document which Senator Dirksen (D-Ill.) said laid down only "a blueprint of exhaustion."

Republicans and some Democrats looked upon his message as outlining the general issues on which his party must stand in next November's election, irrespective of whether he decides to run again.

In this connection, Mr. Truman emphasized that (1) "economic conditions in the country are good," (2) that plant construction now underway "will mean more jobs and higher standards of living for all of us in the years ahead" and (3) "taking the good and bad together, we have made real progress this last year along the road to peace."

He added his social security proposals, plus a call for action on civil rights legislation, to this informal party platform.

Republicans generally contended that Mr. Truman's promise to weed out federal employees who are guilty of misconduct—as well as his proposal to reorganize the tax collecting service—came too late to remove the "morality in government" issue from the presidential campaign.

FRUIT GROWER DIES

Doylestown, Pa., Jan. 10 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Edward M. Paxson, 70-year-old pioneer fruit grower who maintained two large farms which were part of the original William Penn tract in Solebury township. Paxson, who died Tuesday night, was a descendant of a Quaker family which first settled the land. He was a member of the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Fruit Growers association and the New Jersey Horticultural society.

HEAR DEMANDS FOR ECONOMY AFTER SPEECH BY PRESIDENT

By JACK BELL.
Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—An election year Congress responded with demands for economy and no more taxes today to President Truman's state of the union appeal for a broad program of foreign aid and domestic spending.
Lawmakers gave signs they will support a speed-up in efforts to increase American military might.
But Republicans and southern Democrats who together can muster a majority of both Houses appeared determined to hack the amount of foreign aid and to scuttle many of the President's social security proposals. They had some backers among administration supporters.
Churchill Listens
With Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill listening in from a gallery seat, Mr. Truman yesterday called on Congress to meet the "very real" threat of World War III by bolstering the free nations of Europe and Asia with more economic and military aid.
The President proposed, among other things, (1) an increase in the size of the U. S. armed forces, (2) an expansion of "point four" aid abroad to combat "stomach communism," (3) tougher inflation controls and (4) a list of domestic welfare measures including defense housing, labor law revisions, aid to education, medical care, stronger farm price supports and a $5 a month boost in social security benefits.

Senatorial Reaction
Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, was pleased that Mr. Truman called for an increase in the size of the air force and stepped up defense production.
Vice President Barkley thought the message "superb" and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), who doesn't always agree with Mr. Truman, called it "one of the President's better speeches."
Republicans pounded the point that Mr. Truman made no mention of economies. Senator Ives (R-NY) said the message "showed practically no concern over the actual economic welfare of the country."
Senator Martin (R-Pa) said Mr. Truman was proposing "high taxes, big spending, deficit financing, unbalanced budgets and ever-increasing debt."
Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said the President's message left him "depressed about the state of the union."
See Platform
Senator Taft of Ohio, a Republican presidential candidate, had no comment except to observe that Mr.

Truman seemed to have "backed down" on previous demands for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The President asked for revision of the law.
Churchill called the President's presentation "masterful" but Republicans sailed into it as a political campaign document which Senator Dirksen (D-Ill) said laid down only "a blueprint of exhaustion."
Republicans and some Democrats looked upon his message as outlining the general issues on which his party must stand in next November's election, irrespective of whether he decides to run again.
In this connection, Mr. Truman emphasized that (1) "economic conditions in the country are good," (2) that plant construction now underway "will mean more jobs and higher standards of living for all of us in the years ahead" and (3) "taking the good and bad together, we have made real progress this last year along the road to peace."
He added his social security proposals, plus a call for action on civil rights legislation, to this informal party platform.
Republicans generally contended that Mr. Truman's promise to weed out federal employees who are guilty of misconduct—as well as his proposal to reorganize the tax collecting service—came too late to remove the "morality in government" issue from the presidential campaign.

Doylestown, Pa., Jan. 10 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Edward M. Paxson, who died Tuesday night, was a descendant of a Quaker family which first settled the land. Gettysburg Times

Penn-Harris hotel; Leighton C. Taylor, Behndersville, and Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college.

The invocation was given by Rev. Philip Bower, Emmitsburg. During the dinner hour, organ music was provided by Howard Sheets, Jr. The program also included two piano solos by Mrs. Toini Heikkinen.

The history of The Times was traced by Mr. Roy, Mr. Ramer and Mr. Baum.

Editorial Growth
The editorial department, like the commercial printing and advertising departments, has kept pace with the growth and progress of the daily newspaper. Mr. Roy said, "From its humble beginning, a sort of overgrown weekly, the daily paper, the present Gettysburg Times, has attained a highly recognized position in the Fourth Estate."

The mechanical facilities of the publishing plant were a factor in the editorial development of the paper. Expanding from a small, almost purely local paper into a successful influence for good in the community in the dissemination of news — all news — local, state, national and international, The Times maintained a stride-by-stride advancement comparable with other and considerably larger newspapers.

Two-Man Staff
The news staff formerly consisted of two employees and no community correspondents. It operated with one benefit of an outside news service for some time until a pony mail service was acquired. Later this was abandoned for the Associated Press world-wide service, with, however, only the once popular 'pony' telephone service, 20 minutes of telephone news from an AP bureau twice a day. Eventually this was expanded into the full leased-wire service of the Associated Press, supplemented with its news pictures and the all-complete mailed news service.

"This expansion necessitated a larger staff, now numbering six in the main news room with almost full-time stringers in Biglerville, Littlestown and Emmitsburg and 12 additional county correspondents."

"Within the next three months The Times will inaugurate the dissemination and most modern news dissemination innovation, the now famous teletype-setting equipment. The Times will join a 34-newspaper circuit. Of this we will reveal more details in the early future."

Modern Newspaper
The graduation from small-time news presentation, use of boiler plate material, news prepared in type form and locked in a form, and subordination of world-wide news to personal items was gradual, but progressive. Boiler plate went out 28 years ago. New head and body type followed within a few years and the first of our popular special editions went to press in September, 1924. Since that time special editions have almost become by-words in our trading and circulation area, attaining our peak with our 102-page Sesquicentennial edition.

"The Gettysburg Times, editorially, had to maintain a modern pace of improvement because of the world-wide interest in historic Gettysburg and the many news-worthy events that inaugurate or have their inception and presentation here.

"The 18,000 acre Gettysburg Battlefield, the National Cemetery and the more recent arrival of our latest and most famous county resident, General Eisenhower, have made the editorial office of The Times the target for numerous news queries from news gathering services and the larger metropolitan dailies. All of these things tend to enhance the fine reputation of The Gettysburg Times as a daily newspaper which has long been a credit to this great profession."

Pine Printing Plant
"It is not an idle boast when we say that we have one of the finest job printing plants in the East," Mr. Ramer declared. "And when you realize that this is operated in conjunction with the publication of a daily newspaper and several weeklies, it is no mean attainment."

"Few of us can recall when the first daily newspaper in the county operated with one linotype machine, but most of us well remember when the plant proudly boasted of three such machines. That was in 1920 when the commercial printing department of the company was a small factor."

"Through the years, especially during the past 20 years, The Times has grown, commercially, by leaps and bounds. Nine linotypes are required and are in daily operation. A tenth will soon be placed. This will be the Blue Streak linotype of the latest design."

"Thirty-seven years ago the composing room housed two small platen presses. In 1924 we acquired our first cylinder press, a small Kelly. Through the years, while we expanded our job printing, we added to our modern equipment four platen presses, four large cylinder presses and a large fifth press has been delivered and will be in operation within three months."

Two Early Employees
The early job printing years were manned by two employees. The commercial effort consisted in the main of calling cards, time cards, letter heads and other similar items. Production was slow and tedious in the early years because of a lack of proper equipment. The quality of our printed product attracted more and more customers and expansion was almost forced upon us, although the forcing of such an expansion was welcomed.

"More men, more equipment and expert craftsmen became necessary, and these have been added through the years. Expansion has more than kept pace with other departments in our plant."

"Within a few weeks we will install a 16-page rotary press, our latest step in expanding our publishing facilities. We all realize all well that our old flat-bed Duplex press has seen its best days and has earned a lasting resting place among mechanical monuments."

"One of the pleasant things about our company is that from nine workers not so many years ago we now have grown to 59. It is not our limit. We hope to continue our expansion."

Circulation Growth

"Circulation," Mr. Baum declared, "is the life-blood of a newspaper, and in the early history of The Gettysburg Times, there was no exception to that rule in getting this daily newspaper started. I think we need to honor the early publishers for their efforts and ingenuity in getting subscribers back in 1902. We learn that this job was the most difficult and the most heart-breaking in getting started. The circulation list in 1902 was less than 200 copies, in three years it was approximately 250 copies. In the next four years, 1909, by constant selling and the price was six cents a week, 25 cents a month, and $3 a year, the circulation increased to 1,300 copies. The late Levere Hafer purchased the newspaper in this year and found that this circulation figure was inflated, the list was not paid-in-advance and the circulation was immediately sold by a circulation builder syndicate to bring it to a genuine 1,300 copies. The high point was reached with 2,800 copies in 1919 when Camp Colt was in operation during World War I, and immediately after the armistice, this figure dropped to 2,100 subscribers. The delivery of the newspaper was made by two carrier boys in Gettysburg and the remainder by mail.

"The growth of The Gettysburg Times circulation was more evident in 1924 and 1925, when a new system of distribution was established. Home delivery in every town and section of Adams county was put into operation in order to give the people of Gettysburg and Adams county The Gettysburg Times delivery the same day of publication."

"Presently we have over 35 carrier boys in Adams county, 11 carrier boys in Gettysburg, 18 news stands who sell single copies; and four motor routes handled by our own circulation department, now headed by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harmon, together with 18 other individuals who deliver in a single wrapper by throwing the paper from cars operated along the highways in Adams county."

Over 6,500 Now

"Today, The Gettysburg Times enjoys a paid circulation of more than 6,500 copies daily, which gives The Gettysburg Times the greatest coverage in the history of the paper. It goes to many towns with a blanket coverage. The Gettysburg Times will continue to grow in circulation by reason of planning more rural route delivery systems when our press facilities will offer better advantages for proper distribution."

"The rural folk with public sales, a few dry goods stores in Gettysburg and the legal notices comprised the advertising lineage of the early newspapers. Advertising for the first 17 years appeared on the front page, as well as inside and back page. First page was given more change of copy than inside by reason of limited mechanical facilities as all the news was set by hand. It was not until about 1919 when display advertising started to come into prominence. World War I created a market for the national advertised products in the small daily local newspaper. The Gettysburg Times did not take advantage of this growing need until 1923, when the newspaper appointed special national advertising representatives in all the principal cities. With the advent of automobile advertising and other national products, the advertising columns showed a marked increase in lineage. At this time also, individuals were appointed to sell local advertising, write and layout copy and gradually offer merchandising and promotional services for the advertiser."

"About this time, The Times conformed to the uniform page size newspaper, increasing from a 7-column to an 8-column page. This placed us on the list of over 1,000 daily newspapers having uniform national copy and gave our local

"Our Ads Effective"
"This national recognition is proof that The Times advertising columns produce excellent results—otherwise we would not hold this high standing.

"Such high rating is proof as that, like our news columns, our advertising columns serve the Gettysburg and Adams county community and have been a prime factor in creating stores that are prosperous... prosperous stores mean better stores... better stores mean smart merchandising and good selectivity... and all that means better good and better service for the public. Times advertising has had much to do with accomplishing this result."

MT. PLEASANT
ASKS TO ENTER
JOINT SYSTEM

At the January meeting of the executive board of the Littlestown Joint School System on Tuesday evening in the office of Supervising Principal Paul E. King a communication was read from the Mt. Pleasant township school district bearing the signatures of C. P. Myers, president, and Joseph A. Chrismer, secretary, and requesting entrance and participation of the district with the Littlestown Jointure, with participation beginning at the earliest possible date.

The executive board accepted and acknowledged the receipt of the communication and following a discussion of the matter the secretary was authorized to send a notice to the Mt. Pleasant board as follows: "We advise the Mt. Pleasant board to meet with us at the next meeting to provide more definite information as to the position of township requesting admission and the number of pupils to join the Littlestown jointure."

Arthur E. Buehler, president, presided and he appointed the following standing committees: Finance, Stanley R. Sell, chairman, Glenn Bowers, Lloyd E. Crouse and Wade Brown; property and supplies, Wilburg E. Mackley, chairman, David S. Little, William Feaser and John Schwartz; transportation, Charles Shildt, chairman, Kenneth Byers, Karl P. Bankert and Lewis Cramer; teacher committee, Elmer E. Furlow, chairman, George Worley, Carl H. Baumsardner and Arthur E. Buehler; public relations, Clayton Harget, chairman, Raymond Musselman, Austin Shoemaker and Henry E. Waltman.

The monthly report of the supervising principal gave a resume of the activities at the school during December and revealed that a total of 7,487 meals were served in the cafeteria during November with a daily average of 374 meals. The December average per day was 369.

The report of School Nurse Brenda B. Walker covered the months of December and January to date, and revealed a total of 19 home calls; 97 first aid treatments in school; physical examinations completed in grade eleven by Dr. Leonard L. Potter assisted by Mrs. Walker; 12 girls on the varsity basketball team examined by Dr. Potter and the school nurse; one 11th grade student sent to the Warner hospital.

Gettysburg, for a chest X-ray upon recommendation after a physical examination. Home nursing classes are being taught weekly at the school by Mrs. Walker. Periodic health inspections are conducted at the rural schools by her. Mrs. Walker also attended the nurses' conference in Gettysburg recently. She said the general health of the students during the month was good.

The members of the Future Nurses' club, Mrs. Walker advisor, sponsored a visit from Miss Charlotte Reynolds, educational director of Hahnemann hospital, Philadelphia, on December 19. Miss Reynolds showed pictures and spoke to the senior high girls on nursing as a career. Following the address, the club entertained at a tea in honor of Miss Reynolds and with the faculty members as invited guests.

Those in attendance at the executive board meeting were President Buehler, Stanley R. Sell, George Worley, Clayton Harget, Elmer E. Furlow, Glenn Bowers, Charles Shildt and Lloyd E. Crouse. Also present were Principal King and Henry E. Waltman, secretary. The meeting of the individual boards followed. The next meeting of the executive board will be held Tuesday evening, February 12.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, will be held on Thursday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the post home, East King street.

Triple Amputee
Shoots His Deer

Pocatello, Idaho (AP) — LaVerl Johnson bagged his deer on his first shot this year.

Spotting a deer, he dismounted from his horse, sighted with one hand and dropped the deer with a shot through the head. The animal was a running target, 75 yards away. This isn't too unusual—except that Johnson is a triple amputee and gets around mostly by wheel chair.

CONGRESS WILL HAVE BIFOCAL LOOK THIS YEAR

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Jan. 10 (P)—Everyone now seems agreed that this will be a completely dismal session of Congress—insofar as it concerns law-making—but will be a rip-roarer vocally and politically.

Especially politically, since next fall the voters must choose the occupants for all 435 House seats and one-third of the 96 Senate seats. This is a situation hardly conducive to silence, modesty or political impartiality on the part of those members of Congress who want to keep their jobs, meaning practically everybody there.

Oldtimers around here have the notion, which is hardly odd, that almost everybody who ever gets a seat in Congress would like to feel it's his permanent property and always in an election year develops that bifocal look which enables him to keep one eye on his work and one on the voters.

Experts in political science have pondered the question—should Congress have its daily sessions televised?—in the belief that if the folks back home could ever see their congressmen in action they might wind up with a better Congress or at least more work done.

It may be only a coincidence that Congress has never shown even small enthusiasm for this idea at all—past, present or future—but it may have turned out to be a blessing for all of us, in this election year at any rate, that Congress won't be within mugging distance of TV. Much to the relief of the Democrats, who have made a spectacle of themselves more than once through the years with their intra-party differences, the Republicans this year will probably take over their franchise and even give them pointers in bare-knuckling while wearing gloves.

This alone should add to our entertainment, if not to our enlightenment, since everybody in Congress is a politician and whatever a politician says in the field of politics can be sliced in half without losing an ounce of sense.

UNITED NATIONS BEAT REDS AGAIN

Paris, Jan. 10 (AP)—The United Nations political committee today smothered a Soviet attempt to force Korean truce negotiations to be taken up by a special high-level meeting of the Security Council.

The vote was 50 to 6 with 11 abstentions.

The 60-nation committee agreed, however, to recommend the holding of a special Security Council meeting—with delegates of foreign minister or similar rank—to discuss world tensions.

It knocked out the Soviet bloc demand that the meeting be called "without delay."

Brazil, France, Britain, and the U. S. offered an amendment proposing the high-level meeting only when the Security Council itself decided that such a meeting would have some effect. The vote on the amendment was 43 to 5 with 8 abstentions.

10-DAY VISIT
Baltimore (P)—A 56-year-old man from Arkansas had the right plea, but the wrong town.

"Just give me a break, your honor," he pleaded before Magistrate John Berry on a drunk and disorderly count. "I'll get out of town right away. I'm on my way to Baltimore to visit my brother." He was taken over to the city jail to visit the boys there for 10 days.

FINAL PLANS FOR MISSION MADE BY TOWN'S PASTORS

Final plans were made for the annual Preaching Mission sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium at the bi-monthly meeting of the Ministerium at St. Paul's Lutheran church Monday morning. The mission will open on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and will continue with service every evening throughout next week in St. Paul's church. The Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, Gettysburg, has been secured as guest speaker for the services. Due to a previous engagement, the Rev. Mr. Fisher has secured the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen of the Lutheran Theological seminary, Gettysburg, as the speaker for Wednesday evening. The services will be in charge of the ministerium members and special music will be offered each evening by the church choirs and soloists. Any choir member of any of the participating churches is cordially invited to join the St. Paul's choir for any or all of the services.

The Monday meeting was opened with prayer offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's church. The Ministerium president, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Reformed church, presided. The Rev. Charles B. Rebert, secretary, read a letter of appreciation from the Rev. Kenneth D. James and family, Glen Rock, thanking the ministers for the gift given to them at their farewell party held in November at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Harvey B. Simons, East King street. The Rev. Mr. James was the former pastor of St. John's Lutheran church.

Plans Union Vespers
A series of union vesper services will follow the preaching mission. The winter vespers will begin January 20 and continue each Sunday through and including March 30. The committee in charge of preparing a schedule for these services was composed of the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, as chairman, the Rev. Charles B. Rebert and the Rev. David S. Kammerer. The schedule was announced and adopted as follows: January 20, service at Christ Reformed church, Rev. Mr. Reynolds secures the speaker; January 27, at Redeemer's church, the Rev. Mr. Kammerer will arrange for the speaking; February 3, at Centenary Methodist church, the Rev. Mr. Koons secures the speaker; February 13, at St. Paul's church, the Rev. Mr. Harvey B. Simons, pastor of Centenary church, secures the speaker; February 17, at St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. Mr. Reynolds in charge of arrangements; February 24, at Redeemer's church, Rev. Mr. Kammerer secures the speaker; March 2, at Centenary church, the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's church, secures the speaker; March 9, at St. Paul's, Rev. Mr. Koons in charge; March 16, at Christ church, with the Rev. Mr. Simons securing the guest speaker; March 23, at St. John's church, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds in charge, and March 30, in Redeemer's church, with the Rev. Mr. Kammerer in charge. Names of the guest speakers will be announced later.

The Ministerium has accepted an invitation from the Littlestown Junior Senior high school to conduct the assembly program Wednesday, January 16, at 12:45 p.m., in keeping with the Week of Prayer.

The pastors voted to participate with Protestant churches in national "Revised Standard Version Bible Observance," which will be held from September 28 to October 5, 1952, by holding a special service in one of the churches on the evening of Sunday, September 28. The general plan is arranged by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association. The goal for such meetings in Pennsylvania is 400. The Monday session was closed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Simons. The next meeting of the Ministerium will be held Monday morning, March 3, 10 o'clock, at St. Paul's church. Brenda Hess was the leader at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of St. John's Lutheran church on Sunday evening in the social hall of the church. The meeting began with the call to worship, song service, Lord's prayer repeated in unison by the group, and scripture reading by the leader. The topics "What My Church Stands For" and "What I Need to Live" were discussed for the group by Miss Hess. The business session was in charge of the vice president, Evelyn Harget. Miss Harget will be the leader for the meeting next Sunday evening, 6 o'clock, at the church. She will lead the discussion of the topics "What Makes for Personal Worth" and "What My Church Can Do."

A roast turkey supper will be served family style by the Ladies' Adult Bible class of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, on Friday evening in the parish house. Serving will begin at 5 o'clock.

"HIGH" DUCKS

Francois Lake, B. C., (AP)—Fifty wild ducks on a spree were spotted near here by a game warden. The ducks apparently had sampled mash from a bootleg distillery in the woods.

SHIRT PICKUP

Buffalo, N. Y., (AP)—The prisoner had a fancy for plaid shirts. He was wearing three of them when he was brought before City Judge Charles T. Yeager on a charge of stealing one of them. After losing his shirts, he told the court he came from New Orleans to pick up potatoes on a farm near here. "It's OK to pick up potatoes, but quit picking up shirts," the judge commented. He suspended a 30-day sentence and told the man to get out of town.

Littlestown FIRE AUXILIARY MEETS MONDAY

Twenty were in attendance at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alpha Fire company No. 1 on Monday evening in the POS of A hall, East King street. The meeting was presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. Mary Arnold, and opened with the group singing of "America," followed with the Lord's prayer repeated. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Odette Strevig, and the treasurer, Mrs. Elsie McCall. The committee in charge of having new auxiliary bylaw books printed reported that the books were not yet completed. A set of hand crocheted items had been left from the bazaar sale conducted by the auxiliary at the annual fireman's carnival held last summer, and these items were awarded at the January meeting. The articles were received by Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker.

Election of officers then took place. The retiring president appointed Mrs. Emily Hahn and Mrs. Helen Ooster to serve as tellers. The election results were as follows: President, Mrs. Viola Badders; vice president, Mrs. Catherine Flickinger; secretary, Mrs. Treva Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Burgoon; and trustees, Mrs. Mary Arnold and Mrs. Edna Koonitz. It was decided by the group to begin the selection of auxiliary sisters, a new project of the organization. Sisters will exchange gifts on wedding and birthday anniversaries, a 50-cent gift, and a dollar gift at Christmas. The guess package was contributed by Mrs. Catherine Flickinger and was received by Mrs. Ruth Sneringer.

A social hour was held at which time games were played and refreshments were served to the group by the January committee composed of Mrs. Mary Selby, Mrs. Helen Ooster, Mrs. Violet Shildt and Mrs. Annabelle Ohler. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held Monday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m. The entertainment committee for the coming meeting consists of Mrs. Mildred Wallick, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Fuhrman, Mrs. Ethel Rintel and Mrs. Anna Scott.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Boyd and family, East King street, included their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Pippin, and daughter, Jacquelyn Lou, Washington, D. C., and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Boyd, Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Denham have sold their farm near town in Germany township to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Eller, Hanover R. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Denham plan to remove to York, and Mr. Eller and family will occupy the farm in the spring.

SUCCESSOR TO JOSEPH STALIN GETS BUILDUP

(By The Associated Press)
Moscow's press leaves little doubt that the successor to Joseph Stalin has been chosen and that he is Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov. Extravagant praise was heaped on him on his 50th birthday. It is comparable only to the praise accorded Stalin himself. The greeting to him from the Communist party and the council of ministers hails him as "co-advisor of Stalin"—the highest possible praise in the USSR. It also credits him with having "forged victory for our homeland in the great war of the fatherland against the enemies of humanity."

This is a development of extreme importance for the Western world, with broad implications for the future of international relations.

Molotov Has Lost
If there has been a struggle for power in the Politburo—and many in the West believe such a struggle has been taking place—Vyacheslav M. Molotov seemingly has lost to the brilliant, ruthless youngster brought up in the isolation of Soviet communism as Stalin's prelate.

There have been persistent hints that Stalin was relinquishing his active direction of Soviet affairs. He has just turned 72, and is reported in failing health.

November dispatches from Moscow, describing the 34th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik revolution, gave the impression Malenkov was the reigning power in the USSR with support from Lavrenty Pavlovich Beria, director of the all-present, all-powerful secret police.

Noticed By Stalin
Malenkov was not present, a striking development in itself, since that ceremony is the year's most important in Moscow. Stalin was not there, either, but Stalin usually has gone south in recent winters.

Malenkov, the non-drinking, non-smoking sphinx of the Politburo, a calculating climber throughout all his political career, is little known to the Soviet people, but the chances are now that a campaign will be started to give them a picture of him as a great Soviet hero.

Malenkov was born at Orenburg in the Urals in 1902. His family background is lost in the mists of party history, probably so that it could be re-made at will. The indication is that he came from a comfortably bourgeois background. He was a schoolboy when the revolution

HOPEFUL FOR NEW IKE BOOM

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said today he believes the door still is open for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to return to civilian life before the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Lodge told a reporter he does not interpret Eisenhower's statement that he would not ask for relief from his European defense assignment as foreclosing all possibility—aside from presidential action—that the general take off his uniform before July.

"But I agree that he can not make any statement on the issues of the pre-convention campaign while he is still in uniform," Lodge said, a strong Eisenhower supporter. His announcement that Eisenhower was available evoked the general's statement.

The Massachusetts senator broke out, but at 17, in 1919, he joined the Red army, and a year later, the party. By 1925, at the age of 23, he came to the notice of Stalin, getting a job with Stalin's nod in the party central committee. From then on his success was assured. He became a central committee member at 37, and a full Politburo member at 44.

wouldn't speculate on when Eisenhower might move to return home or on what events might lead to such a move. Most politicians think President Truman will avoid relieving the general or embarrassing him politically.

In announcing Monday he would answer "a clearcut call to political duty,"—in this case the Republican presidential nomination—Eisenhower said he would not ask relief from his military assignment "in order to seek nomination to political office" nor would he join in pre-convention campaigning.

Calls Hay Ride Fun Enterprise

Columbus, O. (AP)—The State Utilities Commission has regulations for all types of transportation in Ohio.

Recently a newsman asked commission member Ray Martin whether the board had any control over hay rides—definitely forms of transportation. Martin thumbed through the law books and called a staff conference. No regulations, Martin summed up his findings.

"The commission does not want to interfere with private enterprise or public fun. The commission never has desired to take anyone for a sleigh ride."

CONTROVERSY ON BEAN SOUP SIMMERS IN D. C.

Washington, Jan. 10 (AP)—A bean soup controversy simmered menacingly today as Congress reconvened after an 11-week adjournment.

The size of the servings of this standard congressional mainstay in the House of Representatives restaurant has been cut down drastically. Two bits formerly brought a brimming bowl of the nourishing stuff; a boy's size oatmeal bowl would be a roomy fit for an order today.

Rep. Tom Steed, a Democratic bean soup gourmet from Shawnee, Okla., uncovered this newest evidence of inflation almost immediately upon his return to the capital. His reaction was resigned but embittered.

Helped Shape History
Stirring a 10-cent cup of coffee, which was only a nickel when he went back to Oklahoma last October, Steed invited his colleagues, the press and the world at large to consider capital bean soup in historical perspective.

"This pottage," he declared, "plus of course soda crackers, for which there traditionally is no charge, has fueled some of America's greatest statesmen for tasks of the highest importance.

"The late Uncle Joe Cannon, famous speaker of the House, was a bean soup addict. The Honorable Sam Rayburn, the present speaker, is a card-carrying bean soup eater. Historians have more than a little basis to believe that the Missouri Compromise was founded on a sturdy foundation of rich capital bean soup."

Steed considered but rejected a proposal to ask the Bureau of Standards for a check on the exact reduction in servings. He said he guessed the restaurant management had to cut corners to keep pace with

Family Of Beers Strong On Honey

Columbus, O. (AP)—A honey of a family in distant Tasmania is looking around for new uses for the sweet stuff.

Harold R. Beer, who lives on the island off the southeast Australia coast, raises bees and his family uses about 60 pounds per year for each of its five members. The average American family uses one and two-thirds pounds per person per year.

In order to get further mileage rising costs, but he wished it had raised the price rather than cut the volume.

out of their crop. Beer recently wrote the Ohio State university extension service to get their booklet, "Honey and Honey Cookery."

FANCY SWINE
Brandon, Man. (AP)—Malcolm McGregor paid $395 for a pure-bred boar here. It was the record price in the sale of pure-bred swine sponsored by the Manitoba Winter Fair. The boar won the reserve championship at the annual exhibition.
